

December 2010

Dear Future Investing Partner,

What an amazing year 2010 has been! The exciting projects for Blue Springs that the EDC has initiated and supported continues to both challenge our imagination and resources. It is the partnership of our investing partners in the EDC that has enabled this organization to position the City of Blue Springs to the forefront of incredible opportunities and recognition regionally, nationally and internationally.

Four years ago, the Blue Springs EDC was founded through the generous support of our investing partners. Little did we know that, three short years later, we would announce the first of its kind, "Missouri Innovation Park". It's overwhelming to consider the magnitude of the collaboration with our Partners, certainly reflecting thousands of hours of work as we've assisted in the formation of the Missouri Innovation Park's (MIP) initiative. We are thankful for the assistance of our many allies, especially our investing partners, the leadership of the Mayor and Council through our partnership with the City of Blue Springs and the significant support from Central Jackson County Fire Protection District, Blue Springs School District and KCP&L to help make the University of Missouri presence in Blue Springs a reality in 2010.

Your partnership with the Blue Springs EDC is more important than ever. The investment and active partnership of our investing partners is our life-blood. To help us take the Missouri Innovation Park and our many other business plan goals over the finish line, we need the continued investment from our partners.

The EDC's vision and mission remains clear: to play a key and catalytic role for the entire Blue Springs community that helps existing companies expand their operations and attract new businesses to invest and create household supporting incomes. We invite you to join us and become a vital and supportive investing partner with the Blue Springs EDC.

Thank you for your interest in the Blue Springs EDC and the growth of Blue Springs!

Sincerely,
